

Directly from Anita Alkire on Facebook:

"Let me clarify:

If you are staying at the Gaylord you are paying a $10 parking fee plus your room cost. That parking fee has been negotiated down from $18.50/day to $10 a day. We were able to waive the resort fee but not their parking fee and GWRRA does not benefit from any of that.

For those who are not staying on the property, maybe staying at a different hotel or they're camping, we wanted to give you the opportunity to have in and out privileges for parking. That means you could go in during the morning come out say at lunch go back in and the cost is included within this parking pass for the five days, that's what the $50 parking pass covers. With their current parking fee structure, without either staying on the property or buying this parking pass, you would pay $10 each time you went in and parked each time. We, GWRRA, felt that was unfair for anyone staying off property and negotiated this parking pass option. This is a charge from the hotel and GWRRA does not benefit one dime from this. This negotiated price was done with our Members best interest in mind. This gives you, our Member, the best possible option under the circumstances.

I hope this clarifies what this discussion was about. If not, please get in touch with us."